20a. How does the Committee accomplish its purpose?

The members of the committee provide recommendations on issues that address the application of scientific information to public land management for land and resources managed by the Bureau of Land Management (BLM). The Science Advisory Board works under a work plan approved by the BLM Director which includes curriculum issues for universities, review and monitor the implementation of the BLM Science Strategy, development of a statement and suggested policy on peer review, writing various discussion papers, and prepare and present to the Director a report on emerging issues that the Science Advisory Board thinks require science-based information for decision making.

20b. How does the Committee balance its membership?

Representatives include one from private industry, four from academia, one from a public policy group and one from a conservation group. Each has expertise in one of the fields of natural resource management, energy and minerals, biology, forestry and rangeland management, ecology, and social and political science.

20c. How frequent and relevant are the Committee Meetings?

There were no meetings held in FY 2004.

20d. Why can't the advice or information this committee provides be obtained elsewhere?

It was determined that this committee is no longer necessary.

20e. Why is it necessary to close and/or partially closed committee meetings?

All previous meetings were open to the public.

21. Remarks

The BLM Science Advisory Board was terminated July 15, 2004 when the charter expired.
